Mala, "chief interpreter" of the camp, will enjoy a privileged status.

What makes Mala so great is her desire to make others benefit from her status: advice, encouragement, favors, interventions to spare the sick and the weakest.

On June 24, 1944, Mala deported No. 19880 escapes from Auschwitz-Birkenau and go to Slovakia

Arrested again on July 6, she will be executed on September 15, in atrocious conditions"
