Emmy Wybran was born in Belgium and lived there until 2011. For 35 years, she worked as an interior designer. Emmy grew up with the B'nai Brith value of brotherhood and became a member for 46 years in Brussels. Her late husband, Joseph Wybran, was the President of Henry Jones Lodge. In 2011, after some challenging years, she moved to Israel and in November 2019, Emmy became the President of the Lodge Joseph Wybran, in Tel Aviv.

Lison Nadjar is originally from Paris. She graduated a Master of Finance at the University of Panthéon Sorbonne, and was a financial analyst in a multinational company. Lison is very attached to the B'nai Brith values of brotherhood, tolerance, and pluralism. She was President of the National Electoral Commission and created three Lodges in France, as well as one French-speaking Lodge in Israel, where she currently lives.
